Future Architecture Magazine emerged from the desire to show the current architecture competitions being developed in Spain and all around the world. The magazine, which is published four times a year, features conversations with emergent architects and their competitions; an analysis of 6-8 current competitions; discussion with the winning architects of a recent competition; completed competitions and their construction details; and news of recent competitions being developed around the world. Future 30-31 includes articles on Tourist Hospice in Spain, New Headquarters of the Public Library in Italy, Multipurpose Building in Italy, A101 Block City Masterplan in Russia, Kaohsiung Port Terminal in China, Palace of Congress and Exhibitions and Fairs in Spain.
